UMR

A UnitedHealthcare Company

We're happy to answer some frequently asked questions about UMR

Who is UMR?

UMR is part of UnitedHealthcare, and we've been selected to help administer the health care benefits available to you and your family through your employer.

So UMR is my health insurance?

No. Not exactly. Your employer offers a self-funded health plan. Instead of buying health insurance, your employer pays the costs of any health care claims not paid by plan members like you.

What does UMR do?

We're what's called a third-party administrator, or TPA. Your employer hired us to handle many of the tasks associated with managing your health benefits. For example, UMR helps enroll new members when they sign up for benefits. We process claims for services from health care providers and make sure they are handled quickly and accurately. And we have medical professionals on staff that can help coordinate your care if you are in the hospital or are dealing with a serious health condition.

How does our network work?

You may hear your health care network called a PPO, or preferred provider organization. This refers to a group of doctors, hospitals and other health professionals who have signed a contract agreeing to provide their services at reduced rates. This is your network discount, and you can save a lot of money by going to providers who are in-network vs. those outside the network.

The name of your network is listed on your UMR member ID card, along with the member services phone number to call with any questions. Make sure your health care providers have a copy of your current ID card on file so that your claims will be submitted and processed correctly.

Will I receive mail from UMR?

Only if you want to! If you create an account on umr.com, you'll have the choice to continue to receive information by mail, or you can sign up to go paperless and get email alerts when you have new items to review online. Types of notifications UMR may send you include letters asking you to provide information about yourself or a recent claim, opportunities to work with clinical experts in managing your health, or explanation of benefits (EOB) statements for care received by you or a covered dependent.

What if I have other questions or need help?

UMR has a team of benefits specialists available to answer questions about your health plan and help you find the care you need. For example, you can ask us whether certain services are covered by your plan, get help finding an in-network provider, or find out about how a recent medical claim was paid. Simply give us a call using the member services phone number listed on the back of your ID card, or sign up for online services on umr.com and look up information about your benefits anytime.

Plan members receive an explanation of benefits (EOB) statement for most health claims submitted by your health care providers.

An EOB is not a bill. It simply tells you everything you might want to know about how a recent medical service was covered by your benefits plan. You'll receive a bill from your provider for any amount you may owe.

Remember to review your EOBs for important details about your claims, including:

- Who received the medical service
- The name of the health care provider
- The type(s) of care provided
- How much your provider billed
- Your network discount
- The amount paid by your employer-sponsored plan
- The amount you may owe, including co-pays, deductibles and out-of-pocket amounts

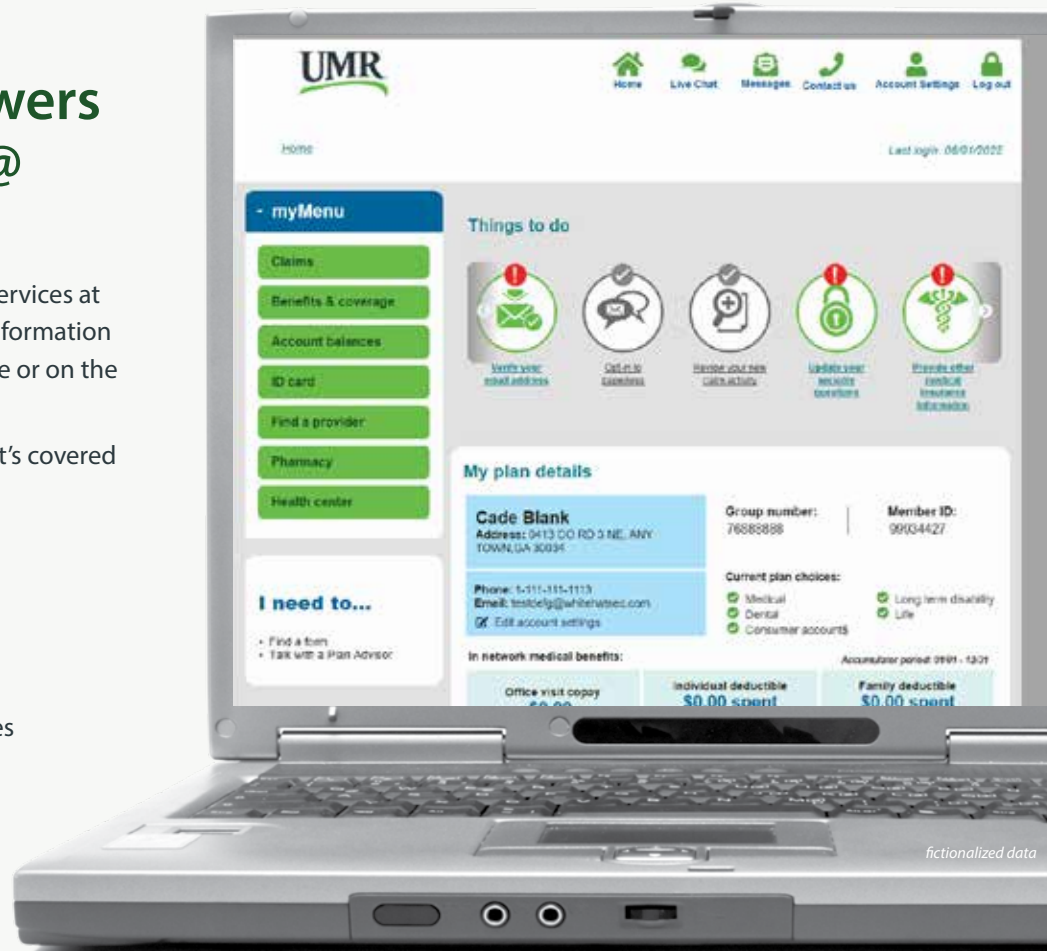

Your EOB will also give you a breakdown of how much you and/or your family have applied toward your annual deductibles and out-of-pocket amounts.

You will not receive an EOB for claims where your responsibility is zero or only a co-payment. You can review your zero balance or co-payment claims on umr.com, or by calling UMR.
